

SYMPOSIUM

an innovative gathering to generate new ideas for health equity

THURSDAY, JUNE 11TH AND FRIDAY, JUNE 12TH, 2015
UMass Medical School
55 Lake Avenue North | Worcester, MA 01655

The Synthesis Engagement and Elevation to Eliminate Disparities (SEED) Symposium uses cutting-edge approaches to generate new findings and resources to eliminate health disparities. Sponsored by the UMass Center for Health Equity Intervention Research (CHEIR), the SEED Symposium is not a typical research conference! Participants will experience SEED Talks, SEED-tainment! and SEED Collection.

SEED Talks are about...

- powerful science,
- inspiring stories of change,
- and/or new ways of thinking about old problems.

SEED-tainment! is...

- an opportunity to showcase the arts and its deep connection to our work in health equity.
- designed to educate and engage researchers, students, patients and communities in changing the conditions that impede health.

SEED Collection...

- displays innovative projects in health equity research through posters, videos and social media.
- brings together ideas and people to redefine challenges and inspire new ways of eliminating health disparities.

Registration opens March 2015

For more information visit www.cheir.org or Holly Brown at Holly.Brown@umassmed.edu